Director of Communications, Marketing & Responsible Banking Foreword

At the end of 2023 we started to update our Sustainability and Responsible Banking strategy by moving to an explicit Environmental, Social and Governance (ESG) framework. Making this change has enabled us to place greater emphasis on the material challenges we face as a business and for the economy and society we serve. As we progress towards our goal of being a sustainable and responsible bank in everything we do, I am pleased to communicate some of the achievements and progress we have made in the first half of the year against some of these long-term ambitions.

We are both acutely aware of the role that banks must play and also alert to the realities of the dependence on consumer behaviour and public policy incentives to drive the whole economy transition to net zero. We will play a full part in supporting our customers as they transform their dependence on carbon emissions, and we aim to lead where we can have a material positive impact. To that end, earlier this year, we published our 'Tomorrow's Homes' report which signified another step forward in our journey to help the UK housing sector transition. The report identifies the steps required to encourage the transition to net-zero in housing and acts as a temperature check on the UK housing stock, providing insight into the challenges faced and the steps needed to create a long-term solution to decarbonising homes.

We also recognise we have a key role in the financial sector that goes beyond traditional banking services, which is why we are redeveloping our social strategy to focus on supporting productive inclusive growth for our customers, communities and our people. Our global education, employability and entrepreneurship programmes are well developed in the UK, and I am proud of the progress we are making to create a more meaningful approach to the societal issues we face as a developed economy. As an example, in H1 2024 we launched applications for our Santander X UK Awards, where startups can win up to £25,000 in equity-free funding. Entries for the Awards have been doubling year-on-year for the past three years as demand for support grows among aspiring UK businesses.

Our recently approved governance strategy aligns with our parent, Banco Santander S.A., and is designed to ensure clear and robust governance promoting the success of the bank, its customers and other stakeholders.

As we continue to refine our sustainability and responsible banking strategy, we have made it a priority to review our medium-term public commitments made in 2021. Over the next six months we will be working to update our sustainability scorecard as most of the targets mature to completion in 2025. Thank you to all the people who dedicate their time to delivering meaningful impact across the bank and ensure that we are sustainable and responsible in everything that we do.

Andrew Wilson - Director of Communications, Marketing and Responsible Banking

- During the past 18 months we have been completing a formal review and refresh of our Sustainability and Responsible Banking Strategy and have aligned to an ESG Framework.
- In 2021 we established our medium-term scorecard consisting of targets for 2022-2025 (and in some cases 2030).
- With most targets due to conclude in 2025 and several achieved early, we have started a review of our public commitments.
- New targets will be aligned with our refreshed SRB Strategy and will help us meet our sustainability priorities.
- We expect to provide an update to our ESG scorecard in 2025.

Retrofitting the UK

- Retrofitting the UK's estimated 28 million houses and flats is an infrastructure challenge. Without a nationwide retrofitting campaign, the UK may not meet its decarbonisation targets. We surveyed a sample of UK homeowners and renters to better understand the nations' view on retrofitting.
- The report finds that there are important knowledge gaps around energy efficiency with most people unaware of the efficiency of their own home. Upfront costs are a major obstacle and even where measures are seen as affordable many people would not prioritise them. To address this we have called for a need to significantly elevate consumer understanding, an expansion of existing grant schemes, especially for the less affluent and a sustained focus on the development of the retrofitting supply chain.
- The report and its findings can be found here.

Santander UK's Social Strategy proposed Pillars and focus areas

Support productive inclusive growth across our main stakeholders: Customers, Communities and Our People

Our Customers:
Making their better happen

Our Communities:
Better Communities

Our People:
Unleash potential

- Financial Support: proactively reached out to 1.97m customers so far in 2024 to offer support to those who are showing signs of potential difficulty. This follows new research that show one in five UK adults are proactively contacting their bank when in need of financial support
- SMEs: teamed up with entrepreneur and footballing icon, Gary Neville, to help an SME with international ambitions get started in a new market
- Money confidence proof of concept: Developing a three month "proof of concept" with a FinTech - a gamified financial education platform aligned to financial goals, to gauge appeal and appetite to motivate customers to want to learn and build money confidence

- Education: Santander sponsored a new report, 'Investing in the Future' by the Social Market Foundation (SMF) calling for financial education to become a statutory requirement in primary schools, and for provision to be high-quality and universal
- Employability: provided a further £3.5m in H1-24 to support higher education and Adult Lifelong Learning
- Entrepreneurship: Santander UK and Oxentia launch annual entrepreneurship competition, with entries for the Santander X UK Awards doubling year-on-year for the past three years as demand for support grows among aspiring UK businesses

- Engagement: H1-24 employee engagement score of 8.3/10, placing us in top 25% of external finance benchmark.
- Culture: launched our flagship development programme in Mar-24, the School of Management. The programme builds the knowledge and skills of our People Managers to be owners of our culture framework, The Santander Way
- Everyday Inclusion: Won the 2024 Euromoney Awards for Excellence for the UK Best Bank in Diversity and Inclusion and launched a new Black advisory board with colleagues from across the bank to shape the next phase of our Black Inclusion plan
- Accreditation: awarded Menopause Friendly Accreditation by Henpicked's independent panel

Santander Scholars Programme

The Santander Universities Scholars Programme is one of the Bank's flagship initiatives. It supports higher-education students from underrepresented groups and aims to break down barriers for students who are most likely to face challenges when attending higher education, helping them to access the educational opportunities and skills they need to fulfil their true potential.

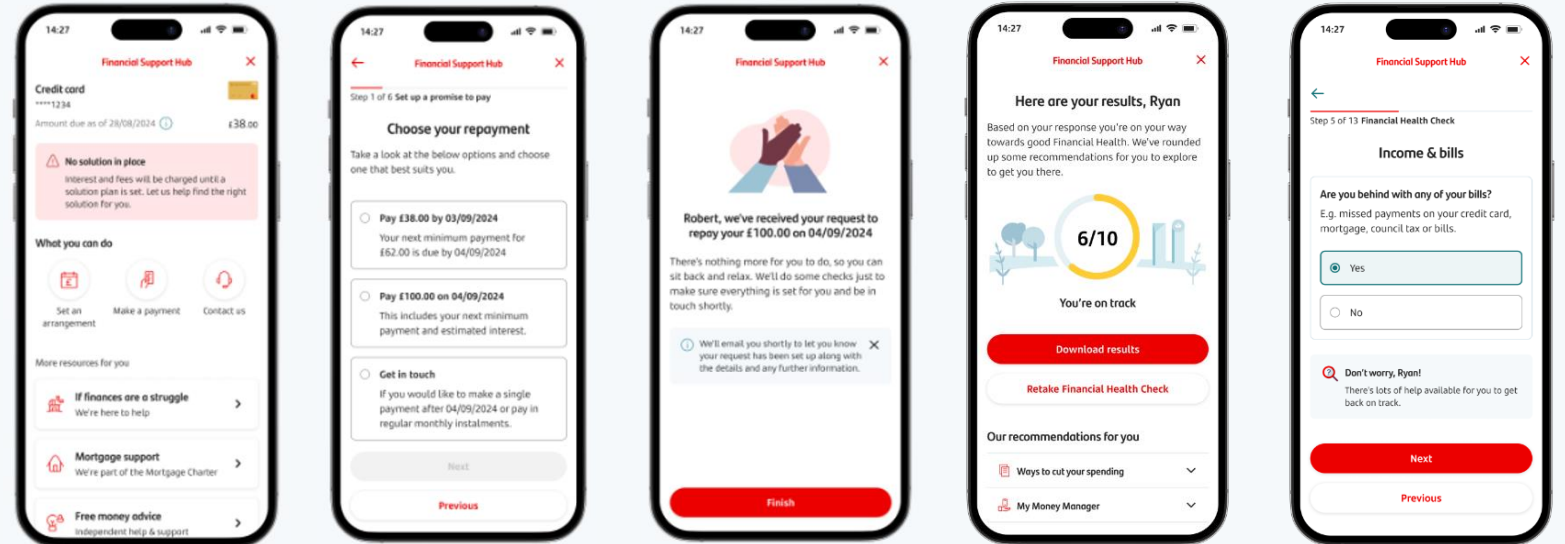

100 undergraduate students from 72 universities across the UK, are receiving funding across all three years of their degree, a dedicated mentor and access to training and development opportunities.

"The Santander Universities Scholars Programme has helped me at a time when I've faced health and financial challenges due to recent surgery. It has not only allowed me to continue my studies but has also eased the financial stress. It's more than just a scholarship - it's a lifeline that's helped me navigate this challenging period."

Peter Dewey, University of East Anglia

- We continue to empower customers to better understand their finances and improve their financial health through our Financial Support Hub in the Mobile App
- Delivering more opportunities for customers to 'self-help' when experiencing financial difficulties or concerns, through their preferred channel of choice
- Six digital releases in H1-24, including arrears balance information across more products, self-serve functionality on Credit Cards, and alignment to OneApp

One App financial support functions

- 260k visits to the Financial Support Hub in H1-24
- 23k completions of our customer support tools, Health Check and Budget Calculator to improve financial understanding and resilience in H1-24
